About The School

Belfast Cookery School was born out of love for great food and our desire to share our experience with you. Our classes cater for all ages and abilities – designed to awaken, enliven and revitalise a passion for cooking.

The venue itself is a versatile space consisting of 16 individual cooking units, chef demonstration section and a banqueting area for our guests to share their experiences and enjoy the food they have prepared.

The School can cater for groups of up to 20 people within a private class format.

Location

Belfast Cookery School is located on Castle Street in Belfast's city centre.

The School is convenient to all local amenities, hotels and all main transportation hubs, including the George Best Belfast City Airport.

There is both secure and on-street parking in close proximity.
